AN EDITORIAL CHANGE.

W. L. Vail has according to the Citizen, assumed charge of its editorial

Mr. Vail's entry among us is modest and straight to the issues that should be the controling features of any Republican paper. The Republican extends him a hearty welcome, and hopes that he may be allowed to be "wholly responsible for the editorial conduct (for the future policy) of the paper." There are serious reasons for doubting that this will be allowed.

First, it is well known that for many months past Mr. Herbert Brown has of the Citizen stock, and there is no reason for believing that he has in any way relinquished the control. Therefore, when Mr. Brown says that the Citizen Publishing Company earnestly request him to retain charge of the business management, it means that Herbert Brown earnestly requests Herbert Brown to look after his PHENIX will give the delegates to the own business. Such being the case, it is not clear and will not be clear until time demonstrates the fact as to what THE butterfly pumps nectar into will be the future policy of the paper, itself through a tube." So does the because Mr. Vail holds his position entirely at the will of Herbert Brown.

Mr. Brown's course for the past few months was leading to the certain ruin man is 9814 cents. He has a right to be of his paper, and just such a change as this, if honestly carried out, was essential to its salvation, and it was undoubtedly taken for that reason.

Mr. Morford, The REPUBLICAN calls your especial attention to Mr. Brown's THE law of libel is none too strict, for wise act, viz: Employ an active out a decent newspaper. The other sort has and out Republican like Mr. Vail as editor of the Herald and give him full face and tongue protruding, is charge of the "future policy" of the dragged forcibly from under the The Democratic and brevet Democratic Herald. You see, that without making gallows back to the drop, to press combined can neither move nor apologies for the past, it starts you out again on a good sound Republican basis. Think of this, Mr. Morford, for We are told that there are 4,041 you have strayed a long way from being Mollie Maguire victims, and such muscles in a caterpiller. Beats the Mexican engine of our morning contempo- some radical change to reinstate the Herald as a Republican paper.

Mr. Brown has at least shown good FLORIDA, having largely failed in sense in this action, and judging from orange culture, has engaged in raising his start, equally good judgment in the Japanese bamboo, both for beauty and selection of Mr. W. L. Vail.

We doubt if Mr. Morford has either the sense or good judgment to follow so wise an example. The following from that old reliable Republican paper, the Journal-Miner, shows that you, Mr. Morford, cannot too quickly adopt Mr. Brown's example:

"Well, if the Herald don't know what would be a 'double headed political gang without party' we can inform it. The "organ" whines in excuse for the appointment of a Democration to a Democration of the same staff that that service is independent of politics and mentions General Hartranft, of Pennsylvania, as being retained on the staff of Governor Pattison, of that State. The facts were, General Hartranft was a most distinguished Union soldier and a man universally admired throughout to the East. Governor Pattison found him in his position and dared not remove him, was the fact. The idea of comparing the Democratic appointment of Governor Wolfley imply picked up a Democratic and Hartranft's case is preposterous, outrageous, Governor Wolfley simply picked up a Democratic medium of the containing the propose of the occasion. It is hardly worth while to deny anything that appears in the Herald. In the present case we will submit the folpublican of Wednesday, July 30, last: 'Governor Beaver did the handsome thing by promoting General Snowden and Colonel Dechert, and moreover, the time and place was so very appropriate, it was all done so nicely. Brewster Cameron, it is understood, will hereafter require him to go to Tucson to receive his orders, editorials and letters when his ambitions are not attained. GIVE ELECTROCUTION A SHOW.

The bue and cry against electrocution, because a nervous warden and more nervous attendants bungled the Kemmler job, is senseless. The electric bold did its work. It unquestionably killed to tevitim and rendered him insensible from the first contact and thus placed him out of misery.

The first shock lasted 17 seconds and the reaction, which has been exaggerated into deep sighing and groaning, was perfectly natural. They surely were not unexpected to experienced executioners, who have been hanged both through traps and by weights.

Our account comes from men like Mr. Baine, of the O'Brien-Baine literary bureau, who fainted during the executions. What would become of these reportorial dudes at a hanging where the rope breaks because of too great a fall, and the struggling victim, blue in the gallows back to the drop, to be hanged again. The writer has attended more than forty executions, military and civil, meluding all of the Mollie Maguire victims, and such futures at a tended more than forty executions, military and civil, meluding all of the Mollie Maguire victims, and such futures and tongue protruding, is dragged forcibly from under the gallows back to the drop, to be hanged again. The writer has attended more than forty executions, military and civil, meluding all of the M be hanged again. The writer has attended more than forty executions, military and civil, including all of the Mollie Maguire victims, and such instances are not rare. That of Cañty, the one-armed man hanged at Colorado Springs, is quite recent and quite in point. He had a six foot fall. The rope rebounded and broke at the beam. The poor devil, though half dead, was hauled up and hanged again. No one who saw that ghastly scene will ever forget it, yet apparently there are men who prefer that method to the more humans for the more humans for that method to the more humans for the provided.

apparently there are men who prefer that method to the more humane inaugurated in New York on Wednesday morning.

So long as we continued with the Mosaic law, of "an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth," we should seek to make executions as painless and as little revolting as possible. Electricity furnishes the agency and it is wrong to condemn its use on a single trial and on the accounts of a few dudelets who have in some way, God knows how, drifted into the newspaper business. There was much to contend with. The whole thing was an experiment. The electric companies to a man opposed the system and will use large sums to influence sentiment against its continuance. The warden was a nervous man, who was overpowered with the responsibilities of the occasion. Even the callow young men of the press tell us to the victim. As the witnesses, outside of the officers, physicians and jurors, need not be there unless they so choose, their feelings need not be considered materially. The thing to be gained is to render the execution painless. Give electrocution a chance.

A Few Questions Answered.

In reply to a correspondent The Republican would say.

1. It is not opposed to a North and South Railroad, but earnestly in favor of it.

2. It is decidedly in favor of the subsidy voted, whether the line costs that much within the county or not. If the cost within the county or not. If the cost within the county or not. If the cost within the county should be subsidy voted, whether the line costs that much within the county or not. If the cost within the county should be mily $500 a mile, we should still favor $4000 as the subsidy was calculated to assist in completing the road, which in sections will cost many times $4000 a the subsidy was calculated to assist in completing the road, which in sections will cost many times $4000 a the subsidy was calculated to assist in completing the road will be constructed the subsidication of the subsidi
